

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS
APPEALS PROCESS
FOR GRADUATE STUDENTS

The Higher Education Act of 1965 as amended, and the final regulations set forth by the Department of Education in 34 CFR 668 require that institutions of higher education establish reasonable standards of "satisfactory progress." A student who does not meet these standards is not eligible to receive federally funded financial aid. In most instances, SIU shall make these standards applicable to all state and institutional aid programs for the purpose of maintaining a consistent and reasonable financial aid policy. However, nothing in this policy shall be construed as a reduction of external requirements by other federal, state, public, or private agencies when they award or control financial aid. At SIU, Satisfactory Progress (SAP) is measured at the end of each spring semester, unless conditional eligibility was provided.

To receive federal financial aid funds, students must meet the 3 minimum requirements, including:

1. Required completion rates (Pass Rate Rule – 67% of hours attempted)
2. Required grade point average (GPA Rule – minimum 2.0)
3. Requirement of Maximum Hours (Max Hours Rule – Students must complete degree program before reaching 150% of the number of credits needed to complete their degree program.)

This information is cumulative based on information provided by the federal government. To receive any future federal financial aid funds, you must submit an appeal. Once you appear on the list, you remain on the list and are ineligible for federal financial aid funds at SIUC until an appeal is submitted and reviewed. If you will no longer require federal financial aid funds from SIUC, you will not need to do anything further.

If the appeal is denied, the student is responsible for any balance owed to the University.
