OCTOBER 2019

THE 2019 GRADUATE SCHOOL FELLOWSHIP RECIPIENTS

The Graduate School Assembly of Fellows Reception and Award Ceremony is held each September to honor the graduate students who have received fellowships for that academic year. The fellowships recognized are The Delyte and Dorothy Morris Fellowship, Doctoral Fellowship, Master's Fellowship, Graduate Dean's Fellowship, PROMPT Assistantship, and Dissertation Research Assistantship Award (DRA). Also recognized are the recipients of the Diversifying Higher Education Faculty in Illinois Program (DFI).

There are 66 fellowship recipients this year: 2 DFI, 31 DRA, 15 Doctoral, 12 Master's, 3 Morris, and 3 Graduate Dean's.

If you would like to nominate a student for one of these fellowships or learn more about the criteria for each, please visit the Graduate School website at <https://gradschool.siu.edu/cost-aid/fellowships/>

RESEARCH PAPER, THESIS, AND DISSERTATION INFORMATION SESSIONS

Everyone is welcome to attend the information sessions hosted by Dr. Rose Moroz, Assistant Dean of the Graduate School. They will be held on October 2 and 3 (at SSB 150/160).

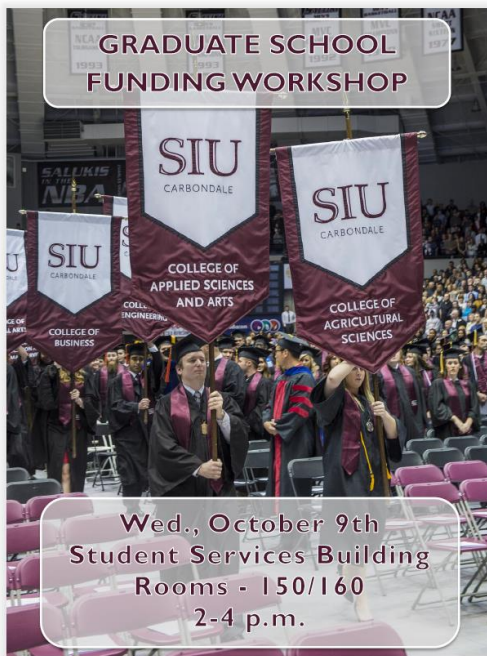

Final paper formatting and submission guidelines will be explained. Students find these sessions helpful, no matter where they are in the writing process.

For those who can't attend, video and powerpoint slides from the sessions will be available on the Graduate School website.

Contact etdsupport@siu.edu with questions.

GRADUATE SCHOOL FUNDING WORKSHOP

Crystal Harris in the Assistantship/Fellowship office will host a funding workshop on Wednesday, October 9.

During the workshop, Crystal will go over funding opportunities that are offered through the Graduate School.

Make sure that your Radius views are updated to show 2020.

Slate training should be coming in October. Departments will be contacted once signups are available.

SIUC-SIUE COOPERATIVE PH.D. PROGRAMS FORUM

On Friday, September 20, eleven SIU Edwardsville faculty and staff came to SIU Carbondale and joined eighteen of their SIU Carbondale colleagues to network and discuss the four Cooperative Ph.D. programs that are currently being offered. Faculty from History, Engineering, Computer Science, and Environmental Resources & Policy reviewed program goals and discussed strategies for improving communication.

Simultaneously, administrative staff from both campuses finalized a procedural manual and problem-solved for greater administrative efficiency.

GRADUATE SCHOOL WORKSHOP

There was a good turnout for the Graduate School DoGS workshops held on September 18 and 19. Email gradschl@siu.edu to request the workshop handouts, powerpoint slides, and a link to the video recording of the workshop.

Also, please refer to the Graduate School Manual for detailed guidance on Graduate School policies and procedures. Visit <https://gradschool.siu.edu/manual/>

S-STEM Workshops 2019

How To Prepare NSF S-STEM Proposals

The STEM Education Research Center (SERC) is offering a series of workshops on “How to Prepare NSF S-STEM Proposals”. This series of workshops focuses on NSF grant funding and how to navigate through the online process from start to finish, and offers guidelines on proposal preparation starting from a general overview, then narrowing to specific topic elucidations of what NSF emphasizes for S-STEM grant awarding. The anticipated goal of the workshop series is for all participants to have a completed and competitive NSF S-STEM proposal that will be submitted for funding.
